Frequently Asked Questions

Do fuel cards have usage fees?

Ag Partners, Berwick Oil, and The Barn fuel cards have no annual or usage fees.

Are there any other fees on fuel cards?

The only fees customers may encounter are standard past-due charges on overdue balances or a 2.5% processing fee when paying an account balance by credit card. ACH payments made through the Ag Partners Portal or through our auto-withdrawal program are fee-free.

Why do certain locations only accept fuel cards?

As credit card processing companies continue to require costly security upgrades at fuel pumps, some locations with lower credit card traffic can no longer accept credit cards at the pump. We evaluated the cost of required upgrades and fuel usage at each location to determine where those investments made sense while continuing to provide convenient fueling options across our network.
