Cooperative Grain and Supply, Agri Trails Coop and CoMark Equity Alliance Announce
New Partnership in Salina Terminal

SALINA, KS (Sept. 30, 2025) – Cooperative Grain and Supply of Hillsboro, KS, Agri Trails Coop of Hope, KS and CoMark Equity Alliance of Enid, OK, announce their new farmer-owned partnership in Smoky Hill Terminal in Salina, KS. Located on East Old Hwy 40

The facility, purchased from ADM, enables all partners to expand their footprint across North Central KS, as well as connecting the valued patrons of the Smoky Hill cooperative network to global and domestic trade opportunities. Smoky Hill Terminal will continue to develop the strong relationships each partner has with their producer-base, along with opening doors to all commercial grain trading partners with a dual serviced 4.2-million-bushel rail terminal.

“We’re excited to join forces with Agri Trails and CG&S” said Scott Keller, CEO of CoMark Equity Alliance. “Our mission is to provide undeniable value to our customers and that’s exactly what we’re doing. CEA will continue to strategically look at opportunities to create long-term success for our 14,000+ producer owners by bringing them closer to the domestic and global markets with a more efficient network.

We have aggressively realigned CoMark Equity Alliance to become the trading company our owners and customers expect. I’m proud of the expertise our team has and with their experience we will continue to work with our strategic partners in this industry to become an origination and trading leader.”

“The Smoky Hill Terminal partnership increases our storage capacity and ability to access rail, helps fortify our presence in the region and ultimately brings value back to ATC member-owners,” said Darel Anderson, CEO of Agri Trails.

“This opportunity not only strengthens our partnerships within the industry but reinforces our commitment to support producers in every way possible,” said Jerry Fenske, CEO of CG&S.
