

Covid-19 Safe Practices For A Safe Season

West Central Ag Services is committed to keeping our employees and customers safe during these times of uncertainty. We have implemented policies at our locations for our employees to follow when doing business with you this crop year. We realize these policies create inconveniences, but they are done with the intentions of keeping you and your families safe and healthy, along with our staff and their families. Some of our changes are company wide, while others are more specific to the type of location you are visiting.

General Precautionary Restrictions

- Social distancing of 6+ feet is requested from your neighbors and our employees
- Masks or face coverings would be appreciated when social distancing is not possible.
- Entries to our facilities will be restricted, please respect the signage and barricades.
- Offices may be locked prohibiting customer access.
- Portable toilets will be available at our facilities for public use. In-house restrooms are for employees only.

Truck Drivers

Please stay in your truck while on site. Call ahead so we can prepare your order or get you in the cue.

Paperwork

Scale tickets, delivery tickets, bill of lading and documents of the such are available electronically if email address is provided or through Grower360

Ordering & Grain Contracts

Orders and grain contracts should be placed remotely via text, email, phone, passed through a window or other means whenever possible.

Maps

Maps should be transferred remotely via text, email, phone, passed through a window or other means whenever possible.

Traffic Flow

Please respect barricades, floor tape, signage and general direction from employees to assist with social distancing.

Payments & Grain Settlements

If you are requesting a grain settlement or wishing to make a payment, we encourage you to correspond via mail. Cash payments should be done from a safe distance.

Offices Areas

Offices may be locked or extremely limited access. Please call if you need assistance.

We apologize for the precautionary measures the Covid-19 pandemic has created, but our goals are to insure we have the safest outcome for all during this production season and are here to serve your needs. Thanks for your cooperation!
